ALLANA COLLEGE OF ARCHITECTURE

Invites you to course on Office Management

Dated : 13th & 29th December 2019

The course will cover the following topics:

1. Office management
2. Large scale project management
3. Visit to offices and ongoing projects of eminent architects
4. Interactive sessions with architects, consultants etc.

Architectural projects are different from other business projects. Architectural projects are design-based and need creative solutions that are unique to each project; unlike business projects where generic solutions can be practised and re-used. Large-scale construction project means the construction, rehabilitation, alteration, conversion, extension, repair or improvement of a vertical public works project, including a building and other real property-related project.

Students will be visiting the offices of Cello Platina, Ar, Avinash Navathe and Veekas, to understand the various aspects of Office and Project Management

Invites you to course on Alternative Building Technology –
Wattle n Daub Construction

Dated : 17th January 2020 – February 2020

The workshop will cover the following topics

1. Alternative building technology
2. Wattle n daub construction
3. Incorporation in studio

Darshan Joshi

Darshan is a computer engineer who has found his calling in architecture. He also holds a post graduate diploma in natural resource management & nature conservation.

Studio Shoonya believes in contextually rooted design solutions and appropriate building construction methods. Earth & bamboo construction are the two fields in which they have initiated their practice. Their practice involves travelling to remote sites, staying there for an on-site experiential analysis, material hunting, labour training & execution in which often they end up as full-time labour. These structures are designed with the minimum means, guided by the strength of instinct & realized by extreme grit & determination.
