 Date: 30-09-2024

INTRODUCTION TO THE EVENT
 Students would be introduced to the importance of Sustainability in Architecture. She will talk about the Crafting Sustainable Education Spaces in her lecture. Interactive session followed with design discussions of Fourth year design, Medical Housing.

INTRODUCTION TO THE SPEAKER

Education
 Meenakshi Umesh studied architecture and worked in Dharavi, the world's largest slum area.

Life experiences
 Meenakshi Umesh moved from Mumbai to the village of Dharmapuri and started the Puvudham Learning Centre, based on Gandhi's Nai Talim. She realized that the understanding of development in the education system is the cause of manmade mistakes.

Work experience
 Meenakshi Umesh has worked as a Chief Associate at hooiv.org, a Manager of Human Resources at FANUC India Pvt. Ltd., and a Senior Executive of Human Resources at Shoppers Stop.

Design philosophy
 Meenakshi Umesh designs sustainable and functional gardens that are sensitive to the landscape and the needs of the client. She uses plants and trees that are adaptable to the site and useful for the client's lifestyle.

SUSTAINABLE CONSTRUCTION TECHNOLOGIES

Ar. Praveen Mali

Ar. Praveen Mali (PSPSMBHS College of Architecture, Shivaj University, Kolhapur) and his wife Civil Engineer Vijaya Mali practice together as ABHA arch Eco-traditional Architecture & Interior Consultants, with emphasis on sustainable architecture & innovative technologies since 2002.

"Today when we are turning our backs to traditional architecture – a science evolved out of years of cultivation and common sense of dealing with the climate, we at ABHA arch are trying to learn from it by making a conscious choice of working in small towns where architecture is less thought about & least focused on. We started ABHA with the same good intention of serving the lower economic strata of the society and also propagating sustainability."

ABHA arch has experimented with techniques like Tiller slabs, jack arch roofs, brick arches, brick vaults, domes, rat trap cavity walls, etc. which are not only cost effective & energy efficient but also make buildings sensitive to the climate.

MCE Society's
ALLANA COLLEGE OF ARCHITECTURE
 Invites you for the jury by Ar. Atul Bhagwat on 15 & 22.10.2024, Tuesday, Time: 8:30 am Onwards

The Jury is being conducted as a part of an external assessment of the campus design problem stipulated as per the S.P.P.U syllabus for Sem V.
 This year the project is a Residential School & Jr. College offering exclusive facilities of International standard, located near Sydney point at Panchgani with a very contextual setting for a boarding school. The brief is a little complex as the institute caters to students from a higher income group with a b.u.a of about 17000 s.m on a contoured site having a 1 m interval with a plot area of about 22,000 s.m.

Ar. Atul Bhagwat
 Completed B. Arch in 1990 from J.J. College of Architecture, Mumbai and practiced architecture in Mumbai till 1995. Shifted to Pune for better professional prospect in 1995 and since then rendering consultancy in architecture in and around Pune city.
 Joined BKPS College of Architecture, first as Assistant Professor in 1995 and then in 1999 as Associate Professor. Workshop on Mechanical Parking Systems
 Date : 22.10.24

INTRODUCTION TO THE EVENT

Since 1959, WÖHR has had a vision for simple and space-saving parking. Company offers the world's largest range of inhouse developed parking solutions – from classical systems with two vehicles parked over each other all the way to large projects with 1000 and more parking spaces in automatic parking systems. The lecture will help students to understand different parking systems and will help them to choose the correct one as a designer.

Architectural Design V – External Jury for Minor & Major Projects
Minor Project: Yoga Hall & Marina Health Cafe using bamboo & timber construction at the Art Park in Campal, Panjim, Goa
Major Project: Commercial (Retail & Office) multi-storeyed building at Camp, Pune.
Date: 17.04.2025, Thursday, Time: 8.30 am to 1.00 pm

Minor project was taken up as a follow up of the study tour to Goa. It looks at sustainable & sensitive ways of construction within the Coastal Regulation Zone that controls the development adjoining the sea front. It adds to the existing Art Plaza and is intended as a role model of construction techniques in such areas to people.
Major Project looks at a pedestrian centric & interactive retail that carried the flavour of M G road further into a modern multi-storeyed development. Fine Dining restaurants are integrated to cater to the shoppers needs. Office spaces strengthen commercial feasibility of the project.
The jury is intended to critique & evaluate the work done by students spanning both the projects.
External Jury will be:

Ar. Bharat Lawale
Ar. Bharat Lawale: An architect from BKPS - Pune University with an M Des in product Design for IDC-IIT, Mumbai. He is a principal at the design firm-Imago, which was established in 1999.

This session introduces the mentorship programme 'Archiprenure' designed by Ar. Rajeshwari Jagtap

Fresh architects face hindrances to set up their practice as today the projects have become complex. They require mentorship, hand holding and guidance to navigate the professional environment and gain success in their professional journey.

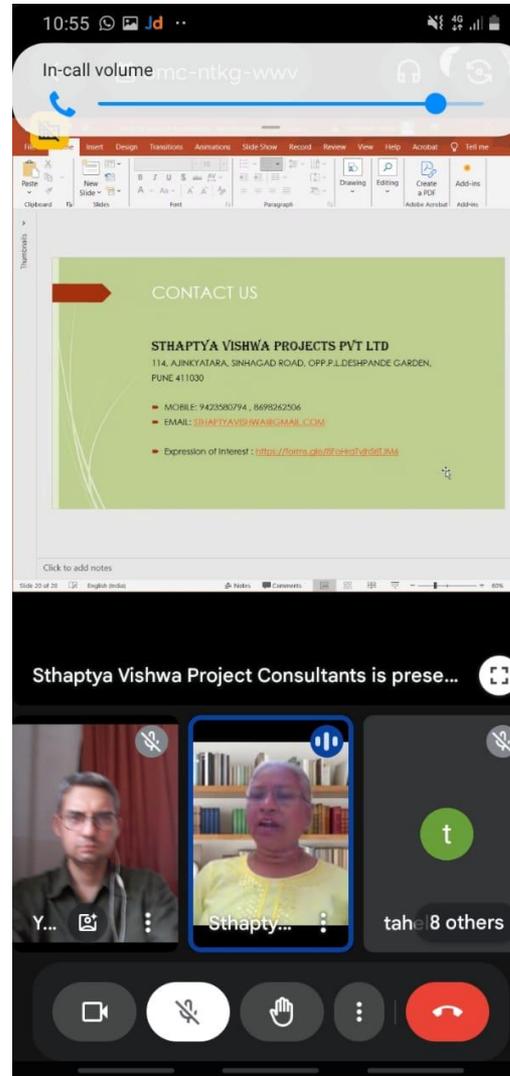

Precious years are lost in understanding the do's and don'ts of profession and the architect finds it difficult to set up his/her practice inspite of having talent and knowledge.

The projects are becoming larger and complex with challenges. So, there is a need for mentorship for fresh architects so that they can realise the dream that has led to the choice of B. Arch degree.

Guidance by teachers is available while the student is in college. Similarly guidance is also required once they graduate and step outside. Hence this concept of Archiprenure – mentorship programme.

'from PREDESIGN to DESIGN'
 Book presentation & dialogue with author
 Ar. Naresh Shah

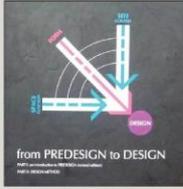

Date and Time : 16th october 2025 12.00 pm to 2.00 pm
 Venue: Seminar Hall

Ar. Naresh Shah and Ar. Prasad Anaokar are responsible for the formal introduction of PREDESIGN into architectural education in India. Their first book - 'An introduction to PREDESIGN'-published by COA, has been well received by the academic and professional fraternity. The authors insist on 'demystifying design process' so as to make it comprehensive, methodical, efficient and enjoyable at the same time. Pre-design is offered by COA-TRC as a module in their Faculty Development Programmes. A lot of colleges have adopted PREDESIGN into their teaching strategy for the subject of architectural design. Allana College of Architecture has used it consistently in their design teaching since 2013 from third year design stage to final year thesis with good response and results.

One of their earliest sessions on PREDESIGN by the authors had happened here in 2013. Pre-design approach has gradually grown into a preferred direction in design teaching. As Naresh Shah states "When we started, many colleges did not want to spare even a day for Pre-design. Now, its common to spend 25-30% of design time for Pre-design"

The second book from PREDESIGN to DESIGN' authored by Ar. Naresh Shah has just been formally unveiled. It is intended to help the reader to move forward with the process of design using the platform of pre-design. This event provides an opportunity to the college to get an early peak into this new book through a presentation by Ar. Naresh Shah himself.
